Join Dementia Alliance as we check in with our 2020 Lina Mae Edwards Young Investigator Research Grant Recipient.

We will start with an overview of the Lina Mae Edwards Young Investigator Research Grants and Dementia Alliance's participation in research. Then, Dr. Milta Little will update us on her progress and answer questions.

About Our Speaker:

Milta O. Little, D.O., is an Associate Professor of Geriatric Medicine at Duke University.

Her study is entitled: Implementation of Cognitive Stimulation Therapy across a healthcare system to improve clinical outcomes of individuals living with dementia illnesses.

About the Grant:

The Lina Mae Edwards Young Investigator Research Grant is made possible with the support of Guardian Angel Thrift Shops, founded in 1999 and operated in two locations in Central North Carolina by founder, Laura Gaddis, in memory of her mother, Lina Mae Edwards. Thanks to public support, Guardian Angel Thrift Shop has been able to contribute over $2 million for Alzheimer's Research in our state.
