Are you confused, stressed, and overwhelmed in your search for local support as you embrace the role of caregiver? Do you need to connect with local services that offer direction and support?

Anderson University Professional and Lifelong Learning, Cancer Association of Anderson, and NHC Home Health Care collaborate to provide the Anderson Community with helpful and informative resources for caregivers.

Join community members each month for several collaborative presentations providing opportunities for discussion, question and answers, and connection with local assisted living, hospice, palliative, and healthcare service providers. This community learning event is FREE. Invite a friend to come along and discover the many ways support is offered to caregivers throughout Anderson County.

A one-time registration is requested to participate in these informative and encouraging events. Simply click on the link below and complete the form. You will receive an event reminder each month at the email address you provide.
