

Everything is fine...

Suicide & Mental Health Awareness Panel Discussion

Fueled by the extraordinary art exhibit of Nat Morris and his soulful paintings that tell the story of a young woman suffering from depression, the Anderson Arts Center has partnered with AnMed Health and Mental Health America to bring an outstanding opportunity to gain knowledge and insight on this very important topic.

Join a discussion led by experts in the field of mental health to address depression, suicide, and other issues facing our community.

What services are available

How to access them

Warning signs

Issues of guilt

Coping mechanisms

Sponsored by:

Tuesday, September 26

6:00 - 8:00pm at the Anderson Arts Center

Panel Members:

Michelle Ready, National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI)

Mike Hedgecock, Program Manager, AnMed Health Behavioral Health Center

Erin Maurer, Director of Counseling Services, Anderson University

Greg Shore, Anderson County Coroner & CEO MedShore

Louise Hurley-Ferrell, Mental Health America SOS group facilitator and board member

Maranda Beaver, LMSW South Carolina Department of Mental Health